

Genealogies of Virginia Families from the William and Mary College Quarterly. Vol. IV. Neville-Terrill

Source Information

Record Url: <https://www.ancestry.com/imageviewer/collections/48644/images/VAFamiliesIV-003327-220>

Pulliam.—Edward Pulliam, born in England in 1600, came to Virginia, and in 1636 settled in Henrico County. Paid his passage to America. His brother, Edmund Pulliam, came in 1638, also settled in Henrico County and paid his passage. Married ———. His son, James Pulliam was born 1640 in Henrico County. Married ———. They had one son, William Pulliam, born about 1665. Married in 1687, ———. William Pulliam lived in New Kent County. Children: James, baptized May 3, 1690, in St. Peter's Parish, New Kent County; William, born August 3, 1690, baptized Sept. 3 in St. Peter's Parish; Benjamin, born about 1706, baptized in St. Peter's Parish; Anna, baptized Nov. 22, 1722, in St. Peter's Parish. Benjamin, the third son, lived in Mecklenburg Co., Va. He married Mary Bruce, daughter of George Bruce of Granville Co., N. C. They had three children: Mary Willis Pulliam (Pullum) m. a Mr. Rose, no issue; Barnett Pulliam, never married. Left his estate to his brother John's children. He is buried in the Bruce Burying Ground near Oxford, North Carolina. He died May 29, 1813. Barnett Pullum (Pulliam) was nominated for the office of Major in the Revolutionary War. Wheeler's History of North Carolina published in 1851 shows Barnett Pulliam member from Granville Co., N. C., in 1804. (This may have been Barnett Pulliam II, son of John, and a nephew of Barnett Pulliam I.) Benjamin Pulliam (Pullum) married second, Mrs. Hester, a widow, and they had one child, Benjamin, Jr. He became a wealthy planter, living on the Roanoke River in Virginia. His plantation was famed for the order in which it was kept. He lived a bachelor, but married on his death-

PULLIAM

Early Virginia Immigrants - Greer, 1623-1665, pg. 269

Edward Pullum, 1636 by William Clarke, Henrico

Edmund Pullum, 1638 by William Clark, Henrico County

William Clarke married the widow of Edward Garner - Dorothy - and received Edward and Edmund "to whom it was due from her husband".

Edward Gardiner living in 16 Feb 1623 at West & Shrilow Hundred -
Paid his passage? Hottens

Compendium of American Genealogy Vol. VI, pgs. 461, 724, 944

Pulliam Family History

Cavaliers & Pioneers - Nugent Vol. I, 1623-1666 pg. 335

First two agree that:

Edward Pullum. b 1600, came from England to Henrico Co., Va. 1630
James b 1640, son of Edward

William, son of James, b 1665 - moved to New Kent Co., Va.

Benjamin Pulliam, Wm's son, m Virginia Bruce in Mecklenburg Co. Virginia